Protection and management of Gajna since 1990.
2007.-2022. BED implements Preservation of biodiversity on protected pasture Gajna by breeding original Croatian breeds

Gajna is a multifunctional area—a natural retention, a protected area, a common pasture and a place of education. Securing conditions for ecological livestock grazing is crucial to preserve the biodiversity of the protected pasture Gajna so much of BED's activity is currently focused on maintaining conditions and grazing on this pasture.

We have made a successful EU project (2007.-2009.) into a 13-year old programme which includes managing a protected common pasture under specific ecological and economic conditions.

When the livestock disappears and the invasive species prevail, grasslands lose their special diversity of the plant and animal world.

BED and original Croatian breeds

BED through its own breeding of original Croatian breeds of Podolian cattle, Posavina horses, Cigaja sheep, Black Slavonian and Turopolje pigs and Posavina goose, provides an example of good practice and encourages the local population to keep cattle on pasture with a series of measures and activities.

In 2022. BED finds a local producer who takes over a herd of Podolian cattle - BED keeps a few heads.

Brod Ecological Society (BED) together with the project manager (DOOR) and in cooperation with nine other partner organizations, in a period of 36 months, is working to establish a thematic network that brings together organizations that jointly research, teach and lead the changes needed to adapt to and mitigate climate change and learn how to behave in new circumstances. The network gathers representatives of civil society organizations, public administration, scientific and research institutions, and social partners with the aim of creating a stimulating environment that contributes to the creation of quality cooperation.

THEMATIC NETWORKS for socio-economic development and the promotion of social dialogue in the context of improving working conditions.

We are partners of the main implementer Green Action in the thematic network JEDRO - Public policies for sustainable social development: water, energy, waste. – 14.10.2018. submitted project., started 01.11.2020., lasts for 36 months.

Brod Ecological Society-BED with the project manager Green Action and in cooperation with nine other partner organizations, over a period of 36 months, works to establish a thematic network, collects and analyzes data and contributes to the improvement of the management system in three key thematic areas (water, energy and waste) as a contribution to solving the ecological crisis and climate change, on which in Croatia, the models that would achieve their more significant development have not been sufficiently researched and developed.

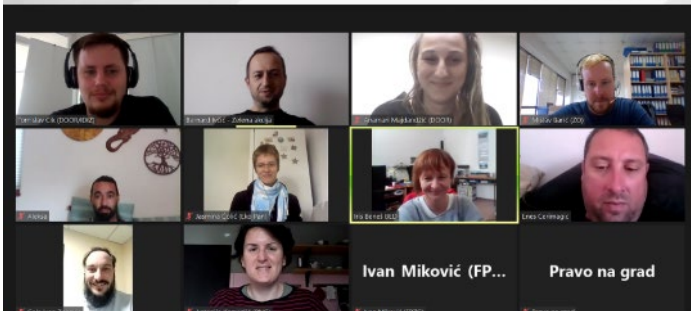

The network brings together representatives of civil society organizations, public administration, scientific and research institutions, and social partners with the aim of creating a stimulating environment that will contribute to the creation of quality cooperation. The partners in this project, along with BED, are:

Faculty of Political Sciences in Zagreb, Society for the Design of Sustainable Development (DOOR), Zeleni Osijek, Association for Nature, Environment and Sustainable Development Sunce (Split), Green Energy Cooperative (ZEZ), Ecological Association Krka Knin, Rights to the City (PNG), PAN - Association for the Protection of Nature and ZMAG - Green Network of Activist Groups.

National Council for Civil Society Development and initiatives

Election of members of the Council for representatives of associations and other civil society organizations and their deputies in the seventh convocation of the Council for the Development of Civil Society for the period from 2020 to 2023 - in front of the Green Forum, Željka Leljak Gracin (Green Action) and Iris Beneš (BED) were candidates for the area of environmental protection and sustainable development. They were elected and appointed by the decision of the Government of the Republic of Croatia in May 2020.

Work in the Council is difficult, representatives of civil society can hardly or not at all influence the dynamics of the meetings and the topics - although they repeatedly mention that they want to be more regularly and better informed (and even better consulted) about the programming processes for the new period of EU funding, the National Plan recovery and resilience and the National Development Strategy of the Republic of Croatia until 2030. The national plan for creating a stimulating environment for the development of civil society expired in 2016, and as in the last convocation of the ZRCD Council, the Office for Associations and Competent Bodies does not provide timely information and does not lead the process well, so even 6 years later there is no significant progress on this topic.

09.01.2022. A report related to the 7th extraordinary session of the ZRCD Council was sent to the Green Forum - i.e. comments about the inappropriate calling and time of the meeting.

Communication with members, sustainable development and environmental protection - Working group for the creation of the National Plan for the creation of a stimulating environment for the development of civil society. Preparation of institutional memory materials. letter on behalf of representatives of CSOs from the field of environmental protection and sustainable development in the Council, for the Ministry of Labor and Pension System, Family and Social Policy, Directorate for the Management of EU Operational Programs in the capacity of the Managing Body for the existing ESF. We have warned about topics that are extremely important for the next program period, and that it is important to schedule a session as soon as possible where the conclusions of the analysis, evaluation and findings of the European Union Program System Audit Agency will be presented, as well as the findings of the evaluation of the Effective Human Resources program.

BED helps associations with less capacities – UUSSP

The Association of Breeders of the Slavonian-Srijem Podolian Cattle (UUSSP) - BED initiated the process considering that without the support of BED, the assembly was not held in 2021. In the BED office, a meeting of the Board of Directors was scheduled for the beginning of September, a Viber group was established, a set of preparatory activities for the assembly, reports and plans were made.)

15.10.2022. assembly held in Lonjsko polje. The documentation for the tender for the co-financing of the UUSSP breeding program in the Ministry of Agriculture of the Republic of Croatia was also prepared.

Pasturing community veterans' cooperative Eko-Gajna

Gajna is currently the only place in Croatia which has, with the advocacy of Brod Ecological Society BED, kept the common model of governance on the traditional common grassland and adjusted such governance to the existing legal framework.

BED is the main driver and member of the Pašnjačka zajednica braniteljska zadruga Eko-Gajna in the Oprisavci Municipality near Slavonski Brod and for years has been advocating for alternative models of use and management of protected areas and areas of Natura 2000, especially regarding the traditional use of common pastures that still exist in some parts of the floodplain of the River Sava. The PZBZ Eko-Gajna has adopted the Gajna Management Program which serves as a base for annual programs which contain measures and conditions of nature protection. We have succeeded in amending the Agricultural Land Act in 2015 in that way that the possibility of joint management on common pastures by accepting a collective as a renter of land owned by the state, was finally recognized.

The annual program of management of Gajna was adopted 08.04.2022. 16 members (OPGs) - 04.04.2022. grazing pressure was about 0.8 heads per hectare per certified sheeti. (204,8 conditional head on 257.89 hectares)

Advocacy activities regarding the lease of Gajna - in 2022.

Gajna previously had the status of agricultural land owned by the Republic of Croatia, and from 2019, with the amendment of the Law on Water, it becomes a public water asset.

Over the years, a special form of land management has developed through the Pasture Community of the veterans' cooperative Eko-Gajna, which in its management program has combined measures and conditions on nature protection, flood defence and sustainable agriculture in one place. The tender of Croatian Waters held in June 2020 was uniform for all parts of the public water asset and took as the decisive criterion the maximum price, which was unknown until the opening of bids. The tender was cancelled in September 2020 because there was no mechanism to protect the achieved standards of nature protection. Croatian Waters does not announce a new tender until July 2022.

At the end of December 2021, the mayor of the Oprisavci municipality sends a request to Croatian Waters to send an application to the RRR Payments Agency to remove the Eko-Gajna PZBZ from Arkod. Croatian Waters acts accordingly, and sends the Agency for Payments in Agriculture, Fisheries and Rural Development (APPRRR) a statement about the use of Gajna without consent, which results in the delisting of Gajna from Arkod (and as a result, the cancellation of subsidies).

As early as January 2022, the BED team within the PZBZ Eko-Gajna once again starts an offensive of writing letters and contacting institutions that have been following the story of Gajna over the past 30 years, either through professional support, project financing or by using Gajna as a positive example. And with that, another fight for Gajna begins. As a part of it, in 2022 alone, about 50 letters were sent and two strategic lawsuits, i.e. court proceedings, were filed.

24.11.2022. Signing and certification of the 5-year Gajna Lease Agreement on behalf of PZBZ Eko-Gajna!

The pressure of the mayor of the municipality does not stop, the direct candidacy of the municipality of Oprisavci against PZBZ Eko-Gajna in the tender, the refusal to issue a certificate that the municipality did not conduct the tender for Gajna, announcements of criminal charges due to the nature protection conditions in Gajna, and other procedures with far-reaching material and legal damages.

Collaborative council of the significant landscape of Gajna

The founder of the Collaborative Council is the Public Institution for the Management of Protected Nature Areas of the Brod-Posavina County - Natura Slavonica, in cooperation with the Brod Ecological Society - BED. The members of the Collaborative Council of the significant landscape of Gajna are representatives of various institutions, associations, educational institutions, state agencies, the private sector and individual farms that are connected to Gajna.

In 2022, no meeting of the collaborative council was held.

Jesenske kiše, visoka poplava na Gajni

Kiša pada, raste rijeka Sava, evo vode biće i poplava.
Teškoća nam ide na teškoću,
kiša pada i danju i noću.
Stigla jesen idu blatni danci,
a u mene truljavi opanci.
